Two men were arrested. Big Howard offered for the murder of MILLERSBURG, Oct. 4.—A man answering the description of the murderer of Station Agent Penwood was arrested near Apple Creek. He proved to be an innocent party and was released. Following this came the news from McConnellsville of the arrest of another man, who also answered the description. Sheriff Korn and a man from Killbuck have gone to that place to identify the prisoner if possible, and bring him back here if he proves to be the party wanted.

The funeral of Penwood took place yesterday at Killbuck, and was attended by an immense number of people. It is believed that out of fear of being intercepted by Lynchers Sheriff Korn will not notify the people here even if the McConnellsville man should prove to be the murderer. When bloodhounds were used in an attempt to track the tramp, who is believed to have killed Penwood they started directly toward McConnellsville.

A reward of $500 has been offered for the man's arrest and conviction. It is divided as follows: Holmes county $300; the Cleveland, Akron and Colman railroad, $200; and the village of Killbuck, $100.

NEAL DOW DEAD.
Champion of the Fight for the Prohibition of the Liquor Traffic.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 4.—General Neal Dow, who had been at the point of death for several days, died Saturday at 3:30 p. m. He was born in this city March 20, 1801. He became the champion of the prohibition of the liquor traffic in 1817, causing to be passed, while mayor of Portland, the Maine liquor law, prohibiting the sale of intoxicating beverages.

NEAL DOW.
He spent many years in endeavoring by public speeches in the United States and Canada to win the popular sanction for prohibition legislation. In 1850 he was a candidate for president on the national prohibition ticket, receiving 10,000 votes. In 1864 he succeeded in having an amendment made in the Maine constitution, which was adopted by popular vote, forbidding the manufacture or sale of intoxicating beverages, and commanding the legis-lature to enact, and able laws for enforcement of the prohibition.

SUICIDE, ACCIDENT OR MURDER.
A Kentucky Lawyer's Body Taken From The River at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 4.—Charles E. Wing, an attorney from Greenville, Ky., lies dead on a slab at the morgue. His body was taken from the river at the foot of Haven street in South St. Louis.

Whether his death was due to accident, suicide or murder has not been established. All that is known of the circumstances surrounding the case is that Wing arrived in St. Louis last Wednesday morning from his home in Louisville, secured a paid for a room at 3015 Eugenia street, where he remained but a few minutes, and was not seen again. His body was found floating in the river last night. The body was searched at the morgue the first thing taken from the inside pocket of his coat was a photograph which contained the picture of a beautiful woman and a piece of paper upon which was written the following:

I love thee and will leave thee never.
There was no signature to this, nor was anything found on Wing that would afford a clue as to the cause of his death.

TOO MUCH EXCITEMENT.
Three Lives Lost by the Burning of a Dwelling.

EAST LONGMEADOW, Mass., Oct. 4.—Three lives were lost yesterday morning by the burning of a small house in the center of this place. The home of George Brownlee caught fire from a chimney. Mrs. Brownlee, her husband Thomas and two sons, aged 21, 19 and 17, escaped in their night robes, but Mrs. Brownlee and her son Thomas were burned in the building, their bodies being buried in the ruins.

Mrs. Brownlee, going to her room, rushed back into the house, thinking her sons had not come out. Thomas rushed after her to save her, and James after Thomas. The mother and elder son were overcome, while James got out, but was burned so severely that he died yesterday afternoon. Mr. Brownlee himself was badly burned on the hands and feet. The bodies of the victims were recovered.

Much excitement exists among the operators and more wells will be drilled at once.

THE YEAR'S WHEAT CROP.
Figures Based on Actual Threshing Returns by The Orange Judd Farmer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—The Orange Judd Farmer, in its final estimate of the year's wheat crop, says that figures based on actual threshing returns indicate a total yield of 889,000,000 bushels of which 875,000,000 bushels is winter wheat and 14,000,000 bushels spring wheat. With the exception of Illinois and Missouri the winter wheat yield represents the full capacity of the soil. The spring wheat yield in Minnesota and the Dakotas has proven a disappointment, the aggregate being only 129,000,000 bushels. The shortage there is in a measure accounted for by the poor yield in Nebraska, Oregon and Washington.

The report says the crop over all is estimated at 1,750,000,000 bushels. The drought of the past two months reduced the average condition from 85 a month ago to 75 on Oct. 1.

An average good yield of 35 bushels per acre would produce 1,750,000,000 bushels.

Many people accuse Mark Hanna of being responsible for the continued drought.

Elect men to fill your county offices, who will attend to the business. All of the Democratic candidates will do this.

Vote the Democratic ticket straight from "end to end." We have had an ample sufficiency of Republicanism in all branches of the government, from State politics on down.

Reports from all the precincts are most flattering for the success of the Democratic ticket: What very little opposition that has existed has cleared away like the mist before the morning sun, and the majority for the ticket will be the greatest in the history of Montgomery county politics.

Hon. William Jennings Bryan will be in Kentucky four days, beginning the campaign at Glasgow will speak at the following places: Elizabethtown, Lebanon, Bowling Green, Russellville, Henderson and Paducah. Extensive preparations are being made for the large crowds to hear him. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Bryan. If dates can be made he will speak in Mt. Sterling and also at a point near Calettsburg or Ashland on this tour.

Ex-President Cleveland is one of the professors of Princeton University who recently signed the petition for a license to retail liquors in the Princeton Inn, much to the astonishment of the alumni, faculty and trustees of that honored institution, as well as the disgust of every parent who has looked upon Princeton as a place where he might send his son with some feeling of security on account of the religious as well as moral and temperance influences that would surround him. Perhaps Mr. Cleveland thought it would help him in his candidacy for Senator from New Jersey, but if we are not mistaken the people of that State will, through their Legislature, administer a just rebuke to the man who can so forget the dignity and honor that had been twice conferred upon him of being elected to the chief place in the nation, and the additional honor of the position he now holds in the historic institution of Princeton, as to use his influence to secure a license for a saloon that is to be run in such close proximity to their boys, and thus stain the fair name of an institution of which they have been justly proud.

A question worthy of serious consideration is this: The man who earns his living by manual labor, and who studies the money question to find relief from the present oppressive conditions, wants more money, and he pleads for it, while the man of capital who makes money off of money wants the single gold standard. The latter has studied the question the same as the former; has had the same aids to come to a correct conclusion. One is just as honest as the other, and the results cross. What is the matter? Each man reasons with his own interests in view, and to the poor man it is evident that more money is best for him, while to the capitalist single standard and high money is to his interest. The rich man with his money has overshadowed the laborer, and hence he must of necessity live and labor under this administration bought by the rich man's money.

There is little doubt that W. R. Tabor will be the Republican candidate for the Legislature for this and Menefee counties. Mr. Tabor is one of, if not the strongest, Republican in the district, the greater honor for Mr. Williams, who will defeat the Republicans' best man with all ease.

History fails to record where any Republican county nominee ever voted for a Democrat, or contributed a cent toward a Democratic campaign fund. How can any Democrat support them? They will not do it.

How to vote at the city primary Friday is not a difficult matter to decide. The question uppermost is regarding the candidates as business men and as Democrats. The first question is easily decided by comparing the one with the other. The second question is an easy matter to settle. There was a Democratic primary held heretofore by which the Democrats nominated George W. Baird for Mayor, Judge Ben R. Turner for City Judge, and W. B. White for City Attorney. The men who will not obey the wishes of the party are not themselves good Democrats, because the party has nominated their candidates for these places and the united support of the party was by that act pledged. No Democrat can afford to vote for any candidate who does not stand firm for Democratic nominees, and we know of no better way to test Democracy than to ask the question direct, "Will you vote for these and all other Democratic nominees?" Should the candidate answer in the affirmative he should be considered a Democrat, subject to party directions; but should he answer evasively or negatively, he is not a thoroughbred Democrat, is not worthy Democratic suffrage, and should not allow his name before the people in a Democratic primary.

There are several cases of diphtheria in the city. We are not surprised at this, the wonder to us is that there are not more cases of contagious diseases with the number of pig pens and other obnoxious places that exist. Along some streets the stench arising is almost unbearable. Perhaps the people do not know that there is an ordinance against such things. But this is the case. It is contrary to the law to allow anything obnoxious to remain on one's premises. It would be well if every citizen of Mt. Sterling would read Sections 82, 83, 87 and 90 of the By-Laws of the city, and then see to it that they are obeyed. We do not believe in laying all the blame for violation of law upon the officers, for they have enough of their own to carry without being made responsible for that which belongs to the citizens themselves. Clear up your premises, stop throwing filth in the streets and we will have a healthier city.

We would call the attention of the officers to these sections also and remind them that it is their duty to see to it that these laws are enforced, and not only these but all the other laws on the statute books, including the laws against the opening of business houses on Sunday and all immoral things.

Ex-President Cleveland wants to be United States Senator from New Jersey. He was born in New Jersey, and for this reason, none other, whether the people want him or not, he would bring this affliction on his native State. His health is good, old buster feels better than usual, and his operations for the Senatorship are expected at any moment.

The Advance in Silver.

Since silver dropped to almost 50¢ per fine ounce in New York City about a month ago, the upward movement (which began about Sept. 15) has carried it to nearly 60¢. The advance is due partially to the fact that the Bank of England proposes to employ silver for one-fifth of its reserve under conditions that are apparently more mythical than possible. The strength in Indian exchange has also helped silver. But the fundamental cause for the improvement in the value of the white metal comes from France.

It is now apparent that the present French administration is more ready than for forty years to join hands with the United States in bringing about international free coinage, or bimetalism. Mr. Melne, the French minister of agriculture, was forced into this position because advancing prices for breadstuffs in the face of a very short domestic crop compelled France to be a heavy importer of wheat and other cereals, and consumers are very ardent in demanding the suspension of the duties on cereals, hoping thereby to reduce prices of breadstuffs in France by the amount of such duties. The ministry has thus far refused this demand, but the agitation is on the increase. Mr. Melne evidently now proposes to no longer stand in the way of this demand, provided he can pacify the agrarian element by a strong effort to bring about international bimetalism.

England's reply to the United States' bimetallic commission is expected early this month. Should it be favorable, which is problematical in view of the organized protest of London bankers against the position of the Bank of England, the silver situation would be materially strengthened. Already the gold premium at Buenos Ayres and the City of Mexico has fallen, and instead of its requiring $2.40 of Mexican silver (not $1.40 as misprint put it a two weeks since) to pay for $1 worth of goods in New York or London, the figure is now $2.25. It is a singular coincidence that during the ten days that silver was making this advance, wheat and cereals sold off. Sec'y Gage has ordered the resumption of the coinage of the United States standard silver dollar at the United States mints from the bullion purchased under the Sherman law, because of the rapid exhaustion of the supply of these coins. The Sept. coinage is expected to reach $1,000,000 with twice as much in October and again in November.

The Woman's Edition of the Advocate is to be published some time this month. The women who have the matter in charge have been hard at work and the people may expect an excellent paper. In fact we have been permitted to see some of the articles they have already written and have no hesitancy in saying that they are well worthy a place in the best journals of the country. With an efficient editorial staff as they have they will be able to publish a paper of which the city will be proud. They have had promise of articles also from some of the prominent writers of the state. Watch for this paper you will be sure to want it.

"One kind word will make home bright for a day, but one unkind word may bring darkness and clouds for a month. Who can know the power of a word or who can tell its influence for good or evil? Eternity alone can tell. Don't be afraid to say to some struggling child of God, 'you have done well, I am praying for you.' It will help to lift up the down-hearted and give cheer to the weary and faint. We all have our sad hours and sometimes, sooner or later, the shadows will come and how some kind word would lift the curtain of night that hangs like the pall of death over our souls. Even words of cheer spoken by mothers whose voices are hushed by death, come like sunshine to our soul. There remaineth a day of rest for the faithful of God, but it can never come to you or to me unless our words have been in harmony with the divine will."—John T. Brown in Chicago Guide.
